

YES Tours De Luxe Ski Safari 23 – 30 Jan 2016

Day 1: Saturday 23rd January

Arrival in Corvara and evening briefing with your ski instructor.

Accommodation: Sporthotel Panorama

Day 2: Sunday 24th January

The first day you'll start with the "Sella Ronda": probably the best-known ski tour in the Dolomites. In just one day, you can ride some 40 km of runs without ever riding the same slope twice. The one-of-a-kind ski circuit embedded in the breathtaking landscape of the Dolomites takes you over 4 Dolomite passes - the Campolongo Pass, Pordoi Pass, Sella Pass and Gardena Pass - and to five villages - Arabba, Canazei, Selva Gardena and Corvara and Colfosco in Alta Badia.

Accommodation: Sporthotel Panorama

Day 3: Monday 25th January

The second day you'll ski over Passo Padon to Marmolada, the Queen of the Dolomites (3342m).

Breathtaking panoramas await, learn some history at the Great World War Museum before the 11 km ski down.

Accommodation: Sporthotel Panorama

Day 4: Tuesday 26th January

From Corvara you'll ski to San Cassiano/Armentarola; a short taxi transfer via Passo Valparola takes you to the impressive Falzarego cable car and "Cinque Torri" ski area.

From Cinque Torri you'll take a ski bus to Cortina where you can ski the "Olimpia" slope where every year they host the ladies World Cup downhill race. The cable car "Freccia nel Cielo" will take you to Ra Valles a wonderful lookout point above the entire valley of Cortina.

Accommodation: Hotel Ancora

Day 5: Wednesday 27th January

During the second day in Cortina you'll see the other side of the valley, the Faloria area and you will take Europe's highest chairlift to the Forcella Cristallo.

Accommodation: Hotel Ancora

Day 6: Thursday 28th January

Early in the morning taxi transfer to San Candido and full day skiing in the "Monte Elmo" and "Croda Rossa" ski areas.

Here in "Val Pusteria" you will find the "Holzriese" the steepest black slope in Italy nestled among more famous mountains called Cima Nove, Cima Dieci, Cima Undici, Cima Dodici, Cima Una.

Late afternoon taxi transfer to Brunico.

Accommodation: Hotel Sonnenburg

Day 7: Friday 29th January

Last day skiing at Plan de Corones; a panoramic mountain (2275 m) where you will find the second biggest bell in the Alps: the "Concordia 2000" peace bell.

The ski area has 116 km of slopes giving you a long ski to Brunico, San Vigilio di Marebbe, Perca or Valdaora.

Accommodation: Hotel Sonnenburg

Day 8: Saturday 30th January
